Taxes up, taxes down

by Jack Brezina, Editor

There was good news and bad news for property owners in Algonquin Highlands last week.

For some of the residents, those in the former Stanhope Township, the municipal portion of their property taxes will drop by 4.93%. The bad news was for those in the former municipality of Sherborne et al where the taxes will be going up by approximately 2.5%.

The budget was approved and the tax rates set at the July 19 meeting of the Algonquin Hills council.

Contacted after the meeting, Algonquin Hills councillor Jim Hicks said the council has rolled the cost of the septic system inspection program into the taxes for those in the northern portion. He pointed out that the previous municipal council had embarked on this program and it was being introduced with an annual special levy of $18 a year over four years. With that

Doug Campbell: a passion for health care

by Jack Brezina, Editor

With the passing of Doug Campbell the community has lost a passionate fighter for the cause of health care in the Highlands.

H. Douglas Campbell died in the Haliburton Hospital, Friday afternoon, July 20.

Doug Campbell had a distinguished 41 year career with Ontario Hydro. It was a posting as Area Manager to the Minden Hydro office in 1970 that brought him to the Highlands. He immediately fell in love with the area and despite being moved to other communities, his heart was always here and, upon his retirement in 1987, he and his wife Ada moved back to Minden.

He immediately took an interest in the development and expansion of the health care services available to the community. He was a member of the Planning and Development Committee, a District Health Council task group asked to help define the future of the health care system in the Highlands.

Doug was selected to be one of two representatives from the Highlands on the board of directors of St. Joseph's Hospital, in Peterborough, the organization charged with managing the two hospitals in the county. From this perspective he could see what was possible for the local community and used that knowledge and background to help guide the process.

As a result of the report prepared by the Planning and Development Committee, a process was started to bring the management of the two hospitals back to the Haliburton Highlands. The report also envisioned an integrated system in which users could access a variety of services from a single access point.

Doug was a member of the initial (Acting) Health Services Board and continued to serve until less than a month ago when he stepped down from the board. In the interim, the redevelopment of the hospitals and emergency departments in Minden and Haliburton had taken place, the Hyland Crest long-term care residence had been rebuilt, 30 long-term care beds had been added to the facilities in Haliburton and a growing selection of services had been added to those already being offered through Haliburton Highlands Health Services.

Doug Campbell helped guide development of health care

Doug's passion for health care, and in particular in protecting the interests of those served by the facilities in Minden, in the early day of the planning process, often found him embroiled in controversy. Never one to shy away from speaking his mind, it could be said that Doug ruffled more than a few feathers in his time as the community struggled to define its health care needs and the best way to position them. He will certainly be remembered for the many colourful expressions he could bring to the discussion.

As the buildings opened last year and the services expanded, he was very proud that the vision of better facilities and services for everyone throughout the entire area was being accomplished.

Although his death came too early, it is more than fitting that his final days were spent in a facility he helped to build. His legacy is not only the buildings, but the the services provided within and outside those walls. He will be remembered for the passion he brought to the task at hand, but also for the understanding and compassion of the needs of those who looked to the health care system for help.

Douglas was a native of Ottawa. During the Second World War he served with the Royal Canadian Navy. His ship, the Trentonian, was torpedoed and sank in the English Channel. Following the war he rejoined the reserve militia regiment, the Fourth Princess Louise Dragoon Guards. He rose through the ranks to become the Commanding Officer, Lieutenant Colonel.

Doug enjoyed the out of doors, playing golf and curling and was a former member of the Rotary Club of Minden.

Doug Campbell is survived by his wife Ada, two daughters Patricia and Wendy and one son John; two sisters Betty Campbell and Eleanor, Mrs. Vern Gilbert. The family has asked that memorial donations be directed for use at the Minden site through the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Foundation.

Youths will apologize

After damaging the front lawn of the Kinmount Baptist Church, two youths have been asked to submit letters of apology for their actions.

The youths were driving a vehicle and made a number of power turns damaging the lawn. Following a City of Kawartha Lakes OPP investigation and the youths' parents being contacted, Pastor Dan Millard asked that charges not be laid if the youth delivered written apologies for their actions.

Kashagawigamog property owners keeping a close eye on commercial development

by Jack Brezina, Editor

The Lake Kashagawigamog Organization is keeping a close eye on commercial developments taking place around the body of water according to the president Peter Oyler. The president was addressing the annual meeting of the organization Sunday, July 15, when he offered this observation.

"The one issue that separates us from other lake associations in Haliburton County is residential/commercial redevelopment and the pressures it will continue to bring to our lake," Oyler said. "LKO is not opposed to commercial redevelopment at this time, but has and will continue to monitor proposals for the future of Kasahag and our environment." Oyler identified four developments either under way or being considered for the lake's shore line. "The redevelopment of the Deer Lodge property is the third commercial redevelopment to take place on the lake in the last five years," he told the meeting.

Oyler said the association was successful in working with all parties in the Deer Point development to protect existing properties and the lake itself. He suggested that the LKO participation and subsequent agreement set a precedent for future projects. He noted that the association is working closely with the students from HHSS to monitor the impact of the development on the shoreline. "I want to thank those students who produced the site assessment," the president said.

Oyler identified a number of other potential developments on the lake including the possibility of up to 64 condominium units at Wigamog Resort. Those units are currently "on hold" he told the meeting.

"Camp Gay Venture has been sold," the president reported. The redevelopment of the property on the south shore of the lake will include 18 cottages on 3500 feet of shoreline, with four docks. "The LKO has not taken an official position on this project but it will be requesting the opportunity to present its position once public meetings are announced."

In a question period that followed, it came to light that an application has also been filed for the redevelopment of the Lofty Pines property at the Ingoldsby end of the lake. Referring to potential of all plans, a member commented, "I have concerns about the addition of 200 new families on our lake." Oyler said the key focus of LKO is to protect the lake. He said, for example, the redevelopment at Deer Point meets all the legal and technical requirements. He also suggested that the Camp Gay Venture redevelopment, "could be a lot worse," than what is being proposed. He said the residents would be welcome to attend the hearings leading up to any zoning changes. Those interested should register with the municipality.

LKO director John Childs suggested this was a good reason to have as many property owners a possible join the association. "With more members, we will have more clout when we represent your interests at council meetings," he commented.

"The key issue to the LKO is to protect the quality of our water and the physical environment in which we live, either seasonally or permanently," Oyler said.

To extend the association's water testing program, it is enlisting the financial support of the commercial properties on the lake. "To date Birch special charge being included in the overall tax levy for the area, the amount is higher.

Hicks said the decrease in the Stanhope Township area will mean a reduction of $48 per $100,000 of assessment. However he also pointed out that the area has recently gone through a reassessment and certain property values, such as those on lakefronts, have risen. He stressed that the reassessment is provincially mandated and there was nothing the municipality could do but use the amounts provided by the Ontario assessment office.

According to Hicks, each department within the municipality was asked to create a reasonable budget and when the figures were presented for consideration, the council was able to approve the amount without any cutting. The councillor also noted that two new fire trucks, which had been planned for last year, will be major purchases this year for the municipality. The trucks will be stationed at the Dorset firehall.

Algonquin Highlands is planning two 9-1-1 open houses in late August to help bring residents up to date on what is happening with the process and to gather input on the road naming exercise.

The municipalities are responsible for vetting the names of roads within their jurisdictions to ensure there are no duplications. The municipalities in turn have asked residents to submit names for their roads.

The meetings are planned to give the public a chance to review the mapping and naming of roads and to gather input from the public on any changes.

The first information session will be held at the municipal office in Stanhope Township on Saturday, August 25. The second is scheduled for Sunday, August 26 at the Dorset recreation Centre. Both open houses will run from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Hazardous waste day

A hazardous waste day has been scheduled for Saturday August 4 for residents of Algonquin Highlands. Property owners in the municipality will be able to bring old paint cans, fertilizer and garden chemical containers, propane tanks, batteries etc. (see notice on page 28 of this paper for a complete list) to the Pine Springs Dump for safe and proper disposal. A landfill identification card will be required.

The special collection will take place from 1 to 5 p.m. (Minden Hills residents will be able to attend a similar collection at the Scotch Line dump site from 8 a.m. to noon on the same day.)

Wilderness trips will help fight breast cancer

by Jack Brezina, Editor

It is an outdoor experience designed to strengthen relationships, empower those who may have been touched by breast cancer and one which participants can dedicate to a survivor or honour someone who has died of the disease.

Three young women from Kinark Outdoor Centre are planning to participate in a number of trips on the Paddle to a Cure: Journeys of Hope. The journeys are four and eight day sea kayak excursions along the northern shores of Lake Superior and Huron.

Tina Newman and Christine Persaud will be taking part in the trips as guides, while Kathy Adam is a participant. Tina is a program co-ordinator at Kinark while Kathy and Christine are outdoor educators.

"Last year there were trips on each of the great lakes, but this time it is more concentrated at the eastern end of Lake Superior and northern Lake Huron," Tina explained. Ten participants are included in each trip. They will be accompanied by four guides.

"We will be travelling in 17 foot long sea kayaks," Christine said. "This is a true wilderness experience that will require us to pack in all our food and gear."

Each participant is required to raise a minimum of $2500 in donations to go to the Breast Cancer Foundation. All of the gear, boats and supplies, other than personal requirements, are provided by the organizers. There are seven trips during the summer months. Most are open to anyone who wishes to raise the necessary donations and is selected to participate. (The selections were made earlier this year from applications submitted.) One trip is reserved for breast cancer survivors while another has been designated an all female trip (mothers, daughters, sisters and friends). The excursions are four and eight days in length and most are designed to be accessible to beginning paddlers.

According to the three, the wilderness experience is very therapeutic for anyone who has been touched by breast cancer, either directly or through a friend or relative. Not only does the wilderness setting quickly establish a sense of empowerment, but the common experience of breast cancer creates a camaraderie that quickly brings the groups together.

Each of the local participants has been touched by breast cancer. Kathy lost a 37 year old aunt to the disease; Tina has a friend who is living with breast cancer and Christine's mother passed away as a result of breast cancer.

"The trips are not about speed or distance," Christine said. "The trips are about companionship and a great opportunity to see the Canadian wilderness." Tandem kayaks are included for those who feel they may not have the strength or confidence to manage a single boat.

For Christine, this year's Paddle for a Cure has taken on a special significance. A graduate student in film production, she has been capturing the preparations for the trip on film and will be recording her experiences which she hopes will be turned into a documentary that will help promote other trips like this.

Last year the Paddle to a Cure raised $250,000. This year the target is $500,000. "We are aware that not everyone can actually go on the trips, but they can be there in spirit through donations and pledges," Christine said. Anyone interested in supporting Kathy's participation in the Paddle to a Cure can call Kinark at 705-286-3555. For more information: www.cbcf.org

Police seeking the assistance of assault witness

The following items were reported by Ontario Provincial Police detachments in Minden and Kawartha Lakes

Police are seeking the assistance of a driver who came to the assistance of a woman in distress on Highway 35, south of Minden.

According to the Haliburton Highlands detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police, a charge of assault has been laid against a 43 year old Lutterworth man following an incident at a residence south of the Wagon Wheel Restaurant.

Police report the woman asked the man to leave the residence after he assaulted her. When he refused, she left the building, but he followed and assaulted her again, this time pulling her by the hair.

A passer-by, a woman with an English accent, driving a silver car, stopped at the scene and contacted police. The police would like to speak to this witness. She is asked to contact the Haliburton Highlands Detachment at 705-286-1431.

The woman who was assaulted was taken to Minden Hospital, treated overnight and released.

The male was arrested and charged with assault. He was taken to the Lindsay jail and was scheduled to appear for a bail hearing July 16. Name of the man charged has not been released.

Good Times, for some

A number of charges were laid by Ontario Provincial Police in Wilberforce while officers were patrolling the community during the annual Country Good Times weekend. Among the charges were:

Road name may honour former Reeve

Minden Hills Public Works Superintendent Clayton Cameron pointed out to council that the street which goes through the Minden Business Park will need to be named and that a by-law will have to be passed naming the street.

Councillor Bill Obee suggested that the street be named in memory of former reeve Reg Booth, who served in that capacity for many years. Councillor Peter Oyler said he thought that was an excellent suggestion, given the significant contribution the late Reg Booth made to the community. Reeve Ross Rigney agreed, saying, "I like the idea."

Municipal officials will determine if the Booth name is already in use within the county. If the name is available, Oyler suggested contacting the family of Mr. Booth to discuss the possibility of naming the street after him. It was also suggested that a special opening ceremony be conducted to honour the late politician.

Cameron said he expects the street to be paved within the next week or two and as soon as the Ministry of Transportation closes off the end of Prince Street at Highway 35, the new street will be the access to the highway from Prince Street.

New by-law officer appointed

The council of Minden Hills held a special meeting on Thursday afternoon to appoint a new Municipal Law Enforcement Officer/Inspector. Doug Schell of Minden was appointed to the position with the passage of a by-law at Thursday's meeting. Schell replaces Dave Rogers, who resigned to take a position in Belleville.

Lochlin dump hours extended

The council of Minden passed a by-law extending the Sunday and holiday hours at the Lochlin dump. Effective immediately, the Lochlin landfill site will be open from noon to 6 p.m. on Sundays and holiday Mondays.

It was noted that cottagers often prefer to get an early start heading home and the former opening of 2 p.m. forced many to delay their departure so they could deposit their weekend's garbage on the way out of the area. With the noon opening, the cottagers will be able to get away two hours earlier.

• a 15 year old from Birds Creek was charged with possessing liquor while being under age. The youth was found near the Wilberforce Arena with a quantity of beer.

• A charge of assaulting a police officer was laid against 21 year old Averil French of Wilberforce. The incident occurred after he was asked several times to leave the Saturday evening dance. According to police, the man became aggressive and struck a police officer on the face. No medical attention was required. The arrested man was taken to the detachment headquarters in Minden.

The accused is scheduled to appear in court August 1.

• A 23 year old Huntsville man was charged with public intoxication after he attempted to start a fight outside the Wilberforce arena July 14. He was held in custody overnight.

• A 19 Wilberforce man was charged with having an open bottle of liquor in a public place July 15, after being stopped by police in the Wilberforce Arena parking lot.

Single vehicle mishap

The driver of a car was treated for minor injuries and released from hospital following an accident July 14 near Soyers Lake Road.

The driver, 56 year old George Stonebridge of Richmond Hill, was northbound on County Road 121 when he lost control of the vehicle and it entered the east ditch. The driver told police there had been an oncoming vehicle in his lane, causing him to lose control of the vehicle. The other vehicle did not stop and there were no other witnesses.

Assault charges

A 68 year old male from Dorset has been charged with two counts of assault following a number of incidents in a residence in that community July 13.

According to the police, officers were called to the home after complaints were received that the man had assaulted his 32 year old daughter and 53 year old wife. The report said the man struck his daughter

Talking trash

It has been discussed on a number of occasions during this season of lake association meetings. Not one of these meetings goes by without an elected official lamenting the cost of looking after the community's garbage. For most people, garbage is a pain in the neck, but according to those who represent our interests at municipal councils, it is about to become a pain in our wallets as well.

The source of that pain can be traced to the Ministry of Environment, which, as the community has demanded, is doing its job, enforcing the regulations regarding the operation and maintenance of garbage dumps--sorry, that should be landfill sites. And the regulations are many and often costly to meet. Particularly if a municipality is planning any dramatic changes, such as closing a dump or allowing all citizens from a newly amalgamated municipality to have access to all the landfill sites within its jurisdiction. Each of the dumps now operating in the county has a certificate of approval. Asking for changes, means that the certificate is open to re-examination, which could lead to all sorts of new requirements, most of them carrying a hefty price tag to implement.

So that is why the operation of garbage dumps has become such a bogey man for municipalities and that is why, as suggested at the Lake Kashagawigamog Association meeting recently, the disposal of garbage should be a responsibility of the county. It is a suggestion that makes a lot of sense.

The handling of garbage reaches far beyond municipal boundaries, especially with the majority of the property owners, seasonal residents. They are often just looking for the most convenient "on the way back to the city" location to properly dispose of their waste and leave their recyclables. The facility they are entitled to use may be far out of their way, not open at a convenient time, or not provide the services they require. All those issues may not be resolved by transferring the responsibility to the senior municipal level, but they are more likely to get an airing in a forum in which something can be done.

As well, taking waste management to the senior level would help with the co-ordination of recycling, standardize dump hours and help spread out the cost of maintaining existing dumps and finding new ones.

On more than a few occasions, in this space, we have advocated for single tier government. The issues surrounding the dumps is but another example of how a centralized administration could address the problem more efficiently. It will be interesting to see if the rumination we hear being offered this summer is, in fact, the precursor to action in the near future.

Trustee reports in

The following report was prepared by Trillium Lakelands District School Board Trustee Bob Orr. He represents Wards 2, 3, 6 and 7 in the City of Kawartha Lakes:

The Provincial Government continues to pass legislation which impacts upon our students and teachers in the classroom. Student testing, teacher testing, The Safe Schools Act and dress codes for students, new rules for negotiations with employees are just a few of the provincial initiatives. The tax credit for parents who wish to send their children to private schools will probably have the most negative affect on the public school boards.

Funding decreased

Funding for education across the province has decreased by more than $2 billion since 1995. This year, the real funding per pupil will be $1,000 less than in 1995. It is impossible to take this money out of the school system and not have some detrimental effect on the quality of education.

I know most people do not like to pay taxes but when my wife and I went to school, the taxpayers paid for our education. When we had children, we contributed towards the cost of their education and now we continue to pay school taxes to educate our grandchildren. I cannot think of a better investment in the future than to give all our children the best possible education. An education which not only helps them learn academic subjects but also develops and nurtures the whole person in the classroom and beyond, through a diversity of activities and learning experiences.

The Trillium Lakelands District School Board continues to struggle with funding shortfalls, especially in Special Education. The grant allocations was short by $2.5 million to provide services and programs for these special needs students, who are the most vulnerable. The board continues to lobby the provincial government for more money to provide the necessary support for these students.

Transportation grant is inadequate

The grant allocation for transportation is totally inadequate and continues to cause concerns both for the board and the parents. The shortfall was $600,000 in a total budget for busing of $11 million. This amount is inadequate considering we bus 88 % of our students every school day and buses travel thousands of kilometers. I should also mention that for insurance purposes and safety concerns, school buses will not travel on unassumed roads and will not enter into private property. Unassumed roads are not snowplowed by the township and the buses have to turn around and this is impossible without driving on private property. Transportation is an ongoing concern, one which we hope will be addressed in the near future and funded to a level which will allow the alleviation of some of the problems.

Funding for education in the classroom had a shortfall of $500,000. The Board received $3.5 million in flexibility and local priority funding. However, by the time we covered the funding shortfalls, there was no money left for local priorities.

Energetic and enthusiastic students

I had the distinct pleasure of attending the Grade 8 graduation at Langton Public School in Fenelon Falls and Ridgewood Public School in Cobocok. These young people were energetic and enthusiastic and looking forward to going on to Secondary School next school year. The valedictorians were articulate, aware and witty. When I saw these young people crossing the stage to receive their diplomas, I thought that there can't be too much wrong with our school system. Their teachers had guided them through learning and life experiences and had instilled in these young people, a well-rounded education which will stand them in good stead in the future.

Director retires

I was sorry when our present Director of Education, Evelyn Brown, announced her retirement to take effect the end of July. I have only known Ev for a short time, but her devotion and loyalty towards the board and her fondness and caring for the students will be greatly missed. I look forward to working with the new director, Mr. David Hill.

I am also a member of the Board of Directors of the Ontario Public School Boards Association, an organization which represents school boards across the province and lobbies the provincial government on behalf of public education. I am also a member of the policy committee.

I will represent our board at OPSBA and bring our concerns to the organization in hopes of coming up with solutions.

Big thanks for the support

Editor:

Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Victoria-Haliburton would like to thank those who supported us in our recent Tag Day fundraising campaign in Lindsay, Fenelon Falls, Bobcaygeon and Minden. We appreciate the merchants of these communities supporting our Agency and our volunteers, many of whom were Big Brothers and Big Sisters accompanied by their "Littles".

We are pleased to have raised $3,000 in this campaign to be used in our ongoing efforts to reduce the number of children still waiting to be matched with a Big Brother or Big Sister. Equally as important is the awareness that is created within the communities during this type of activity, of our Agency and the need to recruit more "Bigs" for the many

Peter Ustinov

Have you noticed how Time turns into a bit of a bushwhacker as you get older?

Used to be that I measured events in the conventional way - I knew that it was six months since my last dental checkup; two years since I bought my car; an hour and a half since I drank that root beer. But I find Time much shiftier these days.

It suddenly dawns on me that events which feel like they happened yesterday are actually quite hoary and long in the tooth.

Some anniversaries are incomprehensible. It seems impossible, for instance, that Wayne Gretzky is retired. Retired? Wasn't he playing for the Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds just a couple of seasons ago?

Can you wrap your mind around the fact that Canada's Expo happened nearly 35 years ago? How about the fact that Peter Ustinov just had a birthday--his eightieth birthday? Ustinov an octogenarian?

Common sense tells you that just can't be true. Except that it is. The man who's delighted the world with a blizzard of plays and novels, movies and musicals; the man who's roly-poly figure and irrepressible smile seem ageless, was in fact born in London, England in 1921. I looked it up. It seems highly unfair that one man should be so skilled in so many fields.

Books? He's written a wagonload - including his best-selling autobiography, Dear Me.

Poems? Sheaves of them. And scripts. And musical works. Ustinov has also directed just about every creative form that calls for an artistic traffic cop - stage plays, operas, and some 90 films in all. And, of course, he's acted - won Academy Awards in fact, for his work in Spartacus and Topkapi.

Mostly what Ustinov's been for every one of his 80 years, is charming. And he can be charming in six languages - fluently, mind. He can also 'pass' in another half-dozen tongues. Oh, heck, let's face it - Ustinov could fake his way through anything from Ancient Greek to Woodland Cree.

The man's a devastatingly funny mimic who's been imitating people since he was a tiny child. His career started when his parents invited Hailie Selassie for a formal dinner. The young Ustinov brought the house down with a hilarious impersonation of the rather priggish Ethiopian Emperor. Ustinov was three at the time.

Someone once asked him how he pulled off his uncanny impression of the veddy, veddy Upper Class toff, Sir Anthony Eden. "I simply try to talk as if I had a cathedral in my mouth" he said.

Ustinov was born with a silver samovar spoon in his mouth - his parents were White Russians who moved in the loftiest of European high society - but Peter spent more time laughing at the Upper Crust than living in it.

He was fascinated by 'blue blood' - but only for its comic potential. "Laughter would be bereaved if snobbery died," he once said. Actually, I think it's his bon mots that I enjoy more than his novels, plays or films.

Ustinov is Oscar Wilde without the barbs; Samuel Johnson without the bluster. Above all, he revered the therapeutic benefits of the belly laugh. Ustinov once described laughter as "the sun that drives winter from the human face".

And he's still with us, still writing. Still charming. Still warming the cockles of our hearts. Shine on, Sir Pete.

Funds will help get county connected

Getting Haliburton County connected received a major boost this past week.

The provincial government announced the awarding of $50,000 to assist Haliburton County in developing a business plan to improve internet access in the community. The money was presented by MPP Chris Hodgson to Haliburton County Warden Murray Fearrey Tuesday morning.

"The plan will establish a community portal that will become the electronic centre of the community, providing one-window access to local information, services, businesses, organizations and levels of government," Hodgson said, in making the presentation. Haliburton County was one of 16 communities across the province to receive the assistance. The City of Kawartha Lakes was also a recipient.

The county will bring a number of partners to the table to match the funds received from the province. Particippants include the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce, Trillium Lakelands District School Board, Haliburton Highlands Health Services, municipal and county governments among others.

"Connect Ontario projects like this one will improve smaller communities' access to information and services and increase their competitiveness in the global economy," Hodgson said. "This initiative will bring the benefits of e-government and e-commerce to our smaller communities." The MPP noted that increasingly people are using the internet to do business, including shopping. He said establishing a "smart" community will enable smaller communities to be a part of a global market as consumers and more importantly as entrepreneurs. "This will level the playing field for smaller communities like ours and allow them to participate in the growing e-commerce marketplace."

Warden Murray Fearrey said an important aspect of the program will be the provision of municipal services on line. As well, he said, there are many benefits for the other public and private partners.

County Warden Murray Fearrey and Haliburton, Victoria and Brock MPP Chris Hodgson with a cheque representing the provincial portion of the Connect Ontario contribution.

In a second phase of the program, Geo-Smarts will tie in a mapping component, identifying resources and people throughout the region.

"This is great news for our community," Hodgson said, "Connect Ontario is all about bringing the world to smaller communities and introducing our smaller communities to the world."

WHAT WAS OLD IS NEW AGAIN: A new store offering quality used clothing has opened at the former OPP detachment office on Highway 35 in Minden. Operated by Terry and Susan O'Shea, 45th Apparel is filled with racks of clothing for men, women and children in a wide variety of styles and sizes. There is even a play room for children to make it easier while the parents do the shopping. And, if you have never been in a police cell, a visit to 45th Apparel will give you that opportunity. The two holding cells have been turned into nicely decorated fitting rooms. 45th Apparel is open Monday to Thursday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Friday 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday and Sunday 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The store is closed on Tuesday.

We encourage you to call the agency at 705-324-6800 for information if you have a child who could benefit from our program, or are interested in giving a small amount of time in order to enrich a child's life. The commitment of a "Big" is only three or four hours a week.

Pssst, want to try a competitive, but non-stressful sport?

Indoor lawn bowling may be just the ticket!

by Jim Hindle

If you are interested in a sport that is competitive but enjoyable; requires skill but is easy to play; is good exercise but is not strenuous; and has friendly and helpful members, then come out to the Minden Indoor Lawn Bowling Club on a Friday evening at 7 o'clock. This is our club's fun night and our members will be happy to show you what lawn bowling is all about. The club is situated in the Minden Curling Club building at the east end of the fairgrounds.

Because the season is getting close to the end, we are reducing the dues to $20 for league players. The social member dues are only $10. Where else can you get a bargain like this?

We wish to welcome two more members to our club. They are Ellie Kellett and Gladys Wruth.

Come on out and enjoy lawn bowling at its best. We have league games both in the morning and the evening. Try it, you'll like it.

Deadline approaches for antlerless deer tag draw

Just a quick reminder to those of you who reach hunters with your writing and broadcasts, that the deadline for the antlerless deer draw is coming up on Tuesday, July 31.

The fastest way to purchase a deer hunting licence and apply for the draw is by calling toll-free from a Touch-Tone phone to the Ministry of Natural Resources' (MNR) Electronic Licensing Line. The Electronic Licensing Line operates 24 hours a day, seven days a week until 11:55 p.m. on July 31.

Hunters should have their Outdoors Card (hunting version), choice(s) of Wildlife Management Unit and credit card handy when telephoning. The number is 1-800-288-1155, and the cost is $35, which includes a resident deer licence. For complete instructions on purchasing a licence and entering the draw by telephone, hunters can refer to the brochure 2001 Telephone Application and Licensing System for the Antlerless Deer Validation Tag Draw available at:

<<http://www.mnr.gov.on.ca/MNR/pubs/pubmenu.html>>.

Hunters may obtain a paper draw application when purchasing a resident deer licence at more than 1,400 hunting licence issuers across Ontario. Cost of the licence and draw application is $32. The deadline for paper applications at MNR offices is 5:00 p.m. on July 31.

If you wish to get a quote from the Big Game Draw Officer, you can speak to Linda Maguire at (705) 755-1436.

Other important dates for hunters coming up include: opening of the telephone lines for applications to the controlled deer draw, August 1; deadline for controlled deer draw applications, August 31; opening of the Draw Results Line for the moose draw, August 1; opening of the Draw Results Line for the antlerless deer draw, September 8.

OFAH condemns Motorized Snowmobile Act

Bill 101 will force anglers and hunters to pay trail fees to access traditional hunting and fishing areas

--submitted--

More broken government promises and a hefty price tag placed on access to traditional wintertime hunting and fishing grounds have left thousands of Ontario's outdoor enthusiasts bitter and disappointed.

The Motorized Snowmobile Vehicles Amendment act, also known as Bill 101, would force people to pay expensive trail permit fees just to access their traditional hunting and fishing areas. The fees would be imposed despite the fact these traditional trail users have, for years, been using, and in some cases even created, the trails they will now be forced to pay for.

"This is an untenable situation that must be reversed," says Mike Reader, Executive Director for the 83,000-member Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters.

"People who have used trails to access ice fishing lakes and hunt camps are suddenly faced with annual fees of $150 or more just to travel a few kilometres to areas that would otherwise be inaccessible. The fees are an onerous financial burden for some people and an outright insult to all traditional users," Reader adds.

Last summer a government committee heard comments and concerns from groups and individuals affected by Bill 101. The standing Committee on General Government heard, at all their hearings, that exemptions from permits for traditional trail users were both appropriate and necessary. Among those supporting the exemptions is the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs, the very organization that receives the money from trail permits.

The bill was passed in December 2000 and regulations to implement the bill have been in development since. Regulations specifying mandatory fees, with no exemption for hunters and anglers, were published June 15, despite assurances to the contrary from the Ministry of Transportation and the Ministry of Tourism, Culture and Recreation.

The Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters is, in the strongest terms, urging the government to amend its regulations immediately.

Moores Lake POA formed at July 7 inaugural meeting

A group of about 120 people turned out for the inaugural meeting of the Moores Lake Property Owners' Association at the Noble Motel.

Paul Bernard, President of the Gull Lake POA acted as the meeting's chair until the election of officers for the new association was completed.

The tone of the meeting was positive. Some members challenged rules of order and a few suggestions regarding the association's constitution were made and voted upon. In the end, only a couple of minor changes were adopted and the constitution was passed by a majority vote.

With the recent controversy over some proposed development on the lake and a pending OMB hearing, some people in attendance may have expected some fireworks. But the meeting remained civil throughout. In fact, during the course of the official meeting, there was no mention of the proposed development. The two property owners who were the subject of several letters to the editor in The Times were both present at the meeting. They appeared to be treated no differently than any of the other members of the new association.

The suggestion to elect the steering committee that organized the formation of the new POA for Moores Lake as the executive for its inaugural executive was opposed by a few members, for various reasons. None of the opponents questioned the integrity or capability of the steering committee members. After much discussion, a vote was called and the slate of executive members was elected from the steering committee. A few other key positions were filled at the meeting, through nominations from the membership or volunteers.

The President of the new Moores Lake POA is Hilary Brown. Denny Curry is the Treasurer. Carol Curry was originally appointed as Secretary and Activity Director. She has since stepped down and Dave Patterson has taken over as Secretary, while Laurie Mitchell has accepted the Activity Director's position. Mary Ellen Beamish has accepted the Newsletter/Publicity duties.

Minden Hills Reeve Ross Rigney was a guest speaker at the July 7 inaugural meeting. He is a member of the Canning Lake POA, which has been in existence for 52 years. He outlined some of the structure that has been developed in that organization over the years. Rigney pointed out that the Canning Lake POA has even established an environmental scholarship fund.

Rigney wished the new association and its directors well.

Discussions during the meeting ranged from water quality and dealing with Canada geese to the coming implementation of 9-1-1.

Members of the new executive of the Moores Lake Property Owners' Association, left to right are: Willy Barbour - Membership Director, Rob MacLean - Water Steward/Environment, Hilary Brown - President, Denny Curry - Treasurer, Carol Curry - Activity Director and Temporary Secretary, Mary Ellen Beamish - Newsletter/Publicity. Absent: Mike Taylor - Area Representative Co-ordinator, Secretary Dave Patterson and Activity Director Laurie Mitchell.

It is indeed our good fortune that the beauty of the Haliburton Highlands continues to work its magic by drawing talented artists to its lakes and forests. It is also our good fortune that Christine Halliday and Phyllis Harris, summer neighbours on Little Hawk Lake, discovered their mutual love of art and are willing to share that enthusiasm with an exhibition at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery in Minden. The show opened Thursday, July 19.

Christine Halliday attended Trapagen Fashion College in New York, the Ontario Art College and Toronto Teachers' College. She was a professor of fashion design at George Brown College in Toronto for more than 30 years as well as a freelance designer. While she had pursued many art forms as a hobby, it was in the late '70's that Chris discovered clay to be her first passion. She has honed her skills over the years and continues to share her passion for pottery at the Mississauga Guild. Chris takes delight in transforming traditional techniques into new and exciting pieces, many of them useful around the home. The colours in her raku are sensational and clearly illustrate good design and attention to detail. According to Chris, "good work needs to allow different levels of interpretation. I want my work to touch your life, not just your eyes."

Phyllis Harris also has a background in teaching. She was head of the swimming department at Central YMCA in Toronto and headed the girls' physical and health education department at Oshawa College for 17 years. Her artistic skills became evident over the years as she produced several stage productions of skits, dance and music.

After retiring in 1989, Phyllis "entered the world of visual arts with a passion!" Her paintings, whether semi-realistic or abstract, depict some aspect of beautiful patterns, movement and moods to be found while observing nature. Phyllis comments, "I like working with the sensuousness of watercolours and fluid acrylics which give my work a somewhat dreamlike quality." She has participated in a number of exhibitions and has won awards for her work.

"Little Hawk Lake Inspirations" is a most appealing combination of pottery and paintings. It is featured at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery in Minden until August 5.

Also at the gallery - Art of Another Kind - Opera Costume! This is a must-see exhibition of 22 costume designs & opera posters from the special collection of local Black Lake cottager, Geoffrey Curtis. Through his work at Malabar's in Toronto, a renowned supplier of costumes, Geoffrey befriended many illustrious opera designers from around the world. It is from these original designs that the actual costume is sewn for the stage production. Familiar characters such as Falstaff, Hamlet and Violetta are here in a variety of media such as crayon, acrylic, watercolour and oil. Geoffrey's collection began in 1972 with the costume design for Creon by Robert Darling for the New York City Opera's production of Medea. This exhibition also runs until August 5 in Minden.

Geoffrey has a special gift for storytelling and visitors won't want to miss the opportunity to hear about some of his experiences. Geoffrey laughs that his grandchildren always beg him to "tell another opera story!" The first presentation was on Sunday, with the second planned for Thursday, August 2nd at 3 p.m. for a delightful chat about the people and places behind-the-scenes! A small donation to the gallery is appreciated and Geoffrey has also donated two posters to be used as a fundraiser. Call 286-3763 for further information.

Water levels follow traditional decline

The following report was prepared by Parks Canada on July 16.

Net dry weather has arrived in earnest and the water has begun its mysterious disappearing act. Overall conditions remain unchanged throughout the watershed, with the lake levels closely following the historic decline and flows being maintained below their normal rates. Total storage within the Kawarthas is equivalent to the 84 year average. The Otonabee flow continues to be approximately half the July average and is expected to be low all week.

In Haliburton, total storage has also been reduced over the past week as a result of the dry conditions. The overall storage capacity has reached 83%, which is 2.7% lower than normal for the period. Water was drawn from the reservoirs over the past weekend to assist navigation in the canal, and this trend promises to continue over the coming weeks. The flow in the Gull and Burnt rivers continues to be at the summer minimum, but will be increased as the Kawarthas require the stored water.

No fear of triskadecaphobia as local bands strut their stuff

by Gord Kidd

Friday the 13th of July was not an unlucky day for the over 100 youth who attended the musical performance of seven local bands at the Carnarvon Bowl.

The evening began with the band P.H.S. consisting of Kyle Aggett, John Horsley, Chris Boxall and Dave Bloomfield. The band was tight and moved through its program with skill and precision. More than one of the many who crowded the stage was heard to say "Where did these guys come from?"

The next act was a group called Andrews Happy Thoughts, P.H.S. had set a tone that had raised the expectations of the audience for an evening of hard-hitting alternative rock. In contrast, Drew Poole, Andy Nesbitt and Kurt DeHaan began a set of original songs that were characterized by strong harmonies, soft melodies and skilled guitar work of Drew and Andy. The powerful drum beat of P.H.S. was replaced with the rhythmic palming of a single bongo in the capable hands of Kurt DeHaan. Bringing people from a rockin' high to a quiet, listening crowd, within the time frame of one song, is no easy task. The audience listened to Andrews Happy Thoughts throughout their 45 minute set with a respect that any group would envy.

The next band to command the stage was a group called Neo Cortex. This group was made up of Devon Ryan, Steve Johnson and Ian Farrell. To those who have not heard Neo Cortex...make a point of hearing this group. The band is a wonderful mix of musicians who, with only their instruments, pick you up and carry you along on a journey of sound that would please anyone from a jazz lover to punk rocker.

The bass playing of Devon was strong and fast. Rarely will you find a bass that can take over as a lead instrument in a group. The sax performance by Ian marked the group's individual style which was flawless during the performance. Holding the two distinct sounds of the bass and sax together was the job of Steve Johnson on drums. I found Steve to have a control over his beat that kept Neo Cortex focused. With Devon and Ian trading places as lead instruments, Steve set the parameters for the group by holding the song intact. This is no simple task when you are flanked by two very talented and strong musicians.

With hardly a chance to catch your breath, the next act was Phat-Q. This was the second time for Andy Nesbitt to step on stage. For the first time in the evening we were seeing the musician whose efforts and planning had made the whole night possible. Ryan Chalmers sat behind the drums as one of the two members of Phat-Q.

If the audience has been mellowed a little by Andy in Andrews Happy Thoughts and refined by the musical style of Neo Cortex, the wake up call happened as soon as Andy and Ryan hit the first rendition of their contribution for the night. For a complete set Ryan and Andy pounded the room with emotional, primal upheaval that was like a volcano of sound.

With Ryan beating the skins and cymbals with demonic speed, and Andy alternating from screaming guitar to an almost inaudible pleading voice only to be followed by a guttural roar, the audience was treated to the power of music in its rawest form.

As the sweat was being wiped away from those who had been caught up in the musical offering of Phat-Q, another band set up. The band known as Angus, Angus and Angus gave everyone some of the "good old Rockin' tunes" from an era that even some of us old folks remember. Scott Curry, Jeremy Douglas, Ryan Dawson, Tiffany Howe, Doug Clark, Ian Milligan and Martin Milligan swept everyone up with their strong rendition of classic Hendrix and other rock tunes. Adding their particular moulding of the songs we found the talent of each one of these members blended together to produce a well-rehearsed sound that was enjoyed by all. Some of the older folks, like myself, were pleasantly surprised by the ability of these young musicians to keep the original song recognizable while adding their particular rhythmic colouring.

The crowd was treated to a Hip Hop performance by Nick Dunec, Matt Hynard and Keenan O'Connor, as well as a comedy routine by Rick McShane.

The evening came to a close in much the way it had begun. The band Blakout (that is the way they spell their name), raised the level of energy to another plateau. Drew Poole on bass and vocals, Andy Nesbitt on guitar and vocals, Ryan Chalmers on guitar and vocals and Nathan MacDuff on drums shook the room with their specialized talents. When these musicians, who had been featured throughout the night, brought their combined contribution to the stage for the final performance, you could see the respect they had for one another. Special guests of Blakout were Jeremy MacDuff and Greg Luck.

This was an event arranged by one of our local teens who was willing to take a chance. Rather than complain about the lack of venues for his band and other youth bands, this 16-year old took it upon himself to rent the hall, select the security, make up tickets, provide distribution, advertise, provide equipment, staff the door and co-ordinate the groups.

In closing, I should like to thank Ryan Chalmers and all the youth who allowed a couple of old folks to share in a night of music. Friday the 13th was indeed a lucky night.

Gord Kidd (the sound guy).

Attend Rock and Gem show and support HHHS

- submitted -

The Wilberforce Rock and Gem Show and the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Foundation have issued a challenge to residents of Haliburton County to support the local Hospital Fund. For every Haliburton Highlands resident who attends the Wilberforce Rock and Gem Show, one dollar will be donated to the Hospital Fund.

Due to the tremendous support from the local community, and the resulting success with the public, the Wilberforce Rock and Gem Show would like to return something to the Highlands that would benefit any local resident who accepts the challenge. Thus the Hospital Fund was chosen and arrangements were made with the HHHSF so that they also could spread the word of the challenge.

If you attended last year's show, you will already have an idea of the treats in store for you! This year there are even more dealers from all across Canada showing and selling their wares, including gems, crystals, jewellery, art and natural wonders. Don't forget about all the fabulous door prizes to be won! Make sure to fill out a door prize ticket, not only to win a prize, but so we can count you in on the challenge! You have a great chance of winning some remarkable prizes if you attend.

If you didn't attend last year, there's all the more reason to check it out this year!

The Wilberforce Rock and Gem Show is a new Haliburton Highlands tradition, which attracts rock and gem dealers from all over Canada.

This event has been organized to bring the many facets of Rock and Mineral collecting and artistry to a wider audience, whether it be those who are already interested in one of the many hobbies related to minerals and gems, or those who are simply curious and enjoy seeing the beauty that nature can bring. Rockhounds already know that the Wilberforce area is renowned for mineral collecting due to the unique geology of the region, which makes it the perfect place for an event of this type.

So support the Hospital Fund, and enjoy nature's bounty by attending the 2001 Wilberforce Rock and Gem Show, July 27, 28, and 29 in the Monmouth Arena in downtown Wilberforce, just 15 minutes east of Haliburton Village.

Doors will be open on Friday from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m., Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. General admission is $5 per day for adults, (more on page 26)

The Haliburton County Library is yours for less than the cost of a chocolate bar

by Joel Levis, County Librarian

Your access-free public library service comes at a cost, but most people don't realise it.

Libraries are funded by various levels of government and, although no money changes hands at the front desk, the service does cost us all through our taxes, both local and provincial.

But what do you get for your tax money? Well... for one thing access to a current and vibrant world of information at any of the eight branches of the Haliburton County Public Library as well as Inter-Library Loans from virtually any library in the whole world!

A direct line is available into the world of computer research and web-based information from your home or at the branch level! Programmes and other services that can bring the world of learning and reading right into your home and workplace! Statistical data that can make your personal and work life easier and more productive! Need help getting that car back in shape? The list goes on and on....

And what is this worth to you in "relative" terms? At a time when a hardcover book can easily set you back $35, your library costs you thirty nine cents per week! Compare that to the cost of a chocolate bar, a can of pop or even a package of gum which can be $1, (with the GST, of course). What about the cost of a package of cigarettes? $5. Even a single postage stamp can cost you half-a-buck but what does the library cost? A mere 39 cents per resident per week. Think about the value that your library provides to you in your community and see what a bargain it really is... it's all relative, isn't it?

The following titles have been added to the collection the week of July 20:

• Catcher in the Rye by J.D. Salinger

- Death of a Hired Man by Eric Wright
- Back When We Were Grownups by Anne Tyler
- Chosen Prey by John Sandford
- White Puma by R.D. Lawrence
- The Cold Six Thousand by James Ellroy
- Dana's Valley by Janette Oke
- True Believers by Linda Dorrell
- Our Lady of the Lost and Found
- The Last Report on the Miracles at Little No Horse by Louise Erdrich
- Diplomatic Immunity by Grant Sutherland
- The Edge of Town by Dorothy Garlock
- The Hearing by John Lescroart
- Soul Mountain by Gao Xingjian

All of these titles and many more are available at or through your local Branch of the Haliburton County Public Library. Remember: InterLibrary Loans @ your library.

These dogs are ready for walking

A Walk for Guide Dogs is planned for September 1 in Minden. It is an opportunity for dog owners to gather some pledges and take their favourite canine for a five kilometer walk. The money raised on the walk will be used to support the Lions Club's Dog Guides Foundation of Canada. The money is used to support training for dogs used by the blind or visually impaired, the deaf and the hard of hearing and by the medically and physically disabled. Registration forms are available at any pet supply store and veterinary clinics in Minden or Haliburton. Getting ready for the walk are, from the left, Anne Knight with Benson and Cricket, Patti Prentice with Winston and Minden Lions Club representative Graham Knight. ## Watch your speed, avoid demerits prepared by Bob English, Haliburton County Tri-Services Committee

It is important to obey the maximum speed limit posted on signs along our roads and highways, but always drive at a speed that will let you stop safely. As a general rule, drive at the same speed as traffic around you without going over the speed limit. In parts of Haliburton County such as the various villages and built-up areas, where there are no posted speed limit signs, the maximum speed is 50 km/h. Elsewhere the maximum speed, where there are no posted speed limit signs, is 80 km/h.

Remember the following when driving:

- Lower your speed in bad weather, in heavy traffic or in the many construction zones we have this summer in the County;

- Slow down when driving at night, especially on dark country roads;

- Follow at a safe distance, at least two seconds behind the vehicle in front of you;

- The following demerit point penalties are assigned to a driver convicted of a speed-related offence. Remember, if you collect enough demerit points, you can lose your driver's license:

- 3 points for exceeding the speed limit by 16 to 29 km/h;

- 4 points for exceeding the speed limit by 30

to 49 km/h;

- 6 points for exceeding the speed limit by 50 km/h or more.

Be extra careful when driving through the various construction zones where people are working on or near the roadway:

- Slow down when approaching work zones and be prepared to stop;

- Obey all signs and any workers who are directing traffic through the zone;

- Be patient if traffic is delayed. If your lane is blocked and no one is directing traffic, yield to the driver coming from the opposite direction. When the way is clear, move slowly and carefully around the obstacle.

By obeying the speed limit, accidents resulting in serious personal injuries or loss of life can be avoided. Drive safely ... and enjoy your summer!

Commercial establishments help with Lake Kashagawigamog testing

Point Lodge, Bryson's Marina, Delta PineStone Resort and Wigamong have contributed to the fund which now stands at $1000. These funds will be used for the express purpose of testing for bacteria content in the lake," he reported to the meeting. "It is in all of our best interests to monitor more fully our water quality."

Tests for phosphorus and water clarity taken last year showed that there has been little change and, in fact, the clarity of the water may have improved slightly in some areas. (Phosphorus content remains at .02 parts per million and Secchi disc readings range from 4.3 to 5.4 metres.)

Oyler outlined a number of programs to help strengthen membership participation. The meeting was told there is a potential for 550 members around the lake. This year the membership stands at 244. Last year it was 231. Oyler said a door-to-door canvas will be conducted, and a new welcome kit will be put together. He urged the members to encourage their neighbours to join the organization.

The president also paid tribute to three volunteers who were stepping down from the organization. He thanked Don Robinson, district representative in area four; Gord Hodson, lake steward; and Charles Coupal, a member of the board of directors. John Lindsay has agreed to take over as lake steward.

The president also reminded those members of the association who have property in Minden Hills of the hazardous waste day planned for August 4 at the Scotch Line Dump. "It is your chance to get rid of batteries and those used paint and stain cans that have been sitting in your shed or boat house for the last 20 years." The material will be accepted at the landfill site from 8 a.m. to noon.

Reeves' report

Since Lake Kashagawigamog straddles two municipalities, both Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey and Minden Hills Reeve Ross Rigney were on hand to bring the members up to date.

Fearrey, who is also serving as the county Warden, said one of the biggest problems confronting the county government is garbage. "We have a five year window of opportunity to get something done," he told the meeting. He said a study has been undertaken and he expects decisions to follow from that. The county is looking at all options including high temperature incineration, composting and increased recycling.

The changes caused by the provincial government are starting to catch up with the county Fearrey reported. He explained that the cost of repairs and maintenance to roads and bridges is expensive and while the province provided some support initially, the county is now carrying most of the amount.

He said the county was faced with a 30% increase in its levy with the projects it had planned. It has been able to pare that back to 8% during each of the next three years by issuing debentures to cover the cost of road repair and upgrading and the introduction of 9-1-1 service. He noted that many lakefront property owners will likely see an increase in their taxes because of the reassessment ordered by the province.

Asked about recycling, he commented that the most difficult group to educate about the practise are people who live in the Highlands year round. "They are the hardest group to teach about recycling," he commented.

Minden Hills Reeve Ross Rigney said he was encouraged to hear the Warden suggest that waste management should become a county responsibility. "That is what I have wanted all along" the reeve commented, particularly because managing landfill sites is about to become the largest expenditure on the municipal budget.

Rigney noted that the municipal tax rate in Minden Hills had risen by only .5%. The reeve reviewed other matters including the fact that the municipality is continuing its discussions with Canadian Tire about locating a store in the community and that a number of businesses are prepared to locate in the municipality's business park on Highway 35 and Prince Street.

Water in/water out

"Since Walkerton there has been a broad based analysis of the water supply across the province and a general increase in the interest shown in water quality by the public," Haliburton, Kawartha, Pine Ridge District Health Unit representative Tom Reddering told the meeting. Reddering had been asked to address the meeting on protection of potable water sources and proper disposal of sewage.

He advised all property owners to have their well water tested on a regular basis. He said this was especially true if the cottage is not used on a regular basis. We still do water testing and there are bottles available for that purpose," he told the meeting. "Before Walkerton we would send one cooler (filled with sample bottles) a day for testing. Now we are sending three or four."

He was asked about the safety of the water at Dover Spring. "The water there is inconsistent. "You don't know from one minute to the next what it may contain." Asked if he was aware of anyone becoming sick as a result of drinking the spring water, Reddering said he was not, however, he noted there had been high bacteria readings recorded in the water, "especially late in the year when the flow decreases."

"Wouldn't it be prudent for the Health Unit to be testing the water on a regular basis?" one questioner asked. "Hundreds of people use the water at Dover Springs," another added. "Aren't you putting your head in the sand by not testing it." Reddering said the policy had been developed by the Health Unit and so the testing of the water had stopped.

Moving to the other end of the pipe, Reddering said that fees for Health Unit approvals for septic systems had risen dramatically in the last few years, reflecting a reduced support from the provincial government. He said the Ministry of Environment and the Ministry of Health are aware of the link between public health and proper handling of waste.

To illustrate, he noted that lakes do not start at the water's edge, but rather at the high points of land which surround the lake. Any leakage of septic waste within the drainage basin is a potential source of contamination. He said that septic systems represent 20 to 30% of the source of problems for lakes, the others are the result of vegetation being eliminated, herbicide and pesticide use, fertilizers and the clearing of shoreline vegetation.

He noted that while most soaps have been regulated for the amount of phosphates they can contain, such is not the case for automatic dishwasher soap. He explained that regular dish detergent may contain up to 8 milligrams of phosphorus per litre. The unregulated automatic dishwasher detergents can contain up to 100 milligrams per litre.

He advised the members that the health unit will always respond to complaints about faulty septic systems. There is no charge for this service and it is confidential.

Deer Point

Real estate broker Linda Beachli was in attendance to report on the redevelopment of the Deer Lodge property. Approval has been granted to construct 63 condominium units on the former Deer Lodge site on the north shore of Lake Kashagawigamog.

"One third of the condominiums have been sold so far," she reported to the meeting. "LKO has been involved in this project right from the start."

Beachli also expressed the appreciation of the developer for the co-operation of the HHSS students in developing an assessment of the property and shoreline. She said since this is the first condo project in the county, there has been some concern about the impact it might have on the lake and the area.

Peter Bray, a sales associate, who was in attendance with Beachli, said the purchasers of the condominiums are eager to be a part of the Highlands. "Some are moving from other lakes to this development," he reported. "They plan to be an active part of the community." He noted that in addition to wanting to be participants in the community, they will also be taxpayers, contributing $2000 to $3000 each to the municipal government.

The development is attached to the Dysart municipal sewage treatment system.

A member of the audience questioned whether the lake could handle the additional boat traffic. Bray noted that only four of the 21 purchasers had requested a slip for their boat and the development had restricted the use of personal water craft.

Other business

The membership approved a budget that involved an expenditure of just over $8000 this year based on an income of $8400.

Approval was also given to a change in the bylaws allowing for the replacement of directors on a rotational basis.

Remaining on the board this year, for a second term, will be president Peter Oyler and directors Anthony vanLieshout and Laureen Scott. Elected to serve a two year term were directors John Childs, Lynne Hoppenreys, Stan Peck and John Matthews.

Ice cream treats in the summer

Hello everyone it's that time again to tell you our latest news. We've certainly been taking advantage of this summer weather. Our countryside drive took us to "Pike's Peak" then on to Kash Landing where we indulged in our favourite pastime, eating ice cream. A wonderful afternoon out with great scenery to enjoy and enjoy it we did. Our thanks to all involved who made this trip possible.

Trivia was held in the gazebo a couple of days ago. What a great place to hold this fun activity. Thelda Weston and Winnie Barnum were quick to answer some of the questions and while the questions were being thought over, ice cream was served. As we mentioned before we do enjoy our ice cream, especially on a hot day in the shade of our gazebo.

Jack and Ruth Worthington dropped in and provided us with a great sing-song: we always enjoy their entertainment. Bill Redgrave, Hilda Gillespie, Bessie Burke and Thelda Weston did a wonderful job singing along to the music. Another great music time was had with Gord Kidd at Pub Night. Gord was joined by Julie Chambers, Neil Howe and Lloyd Madill, a great evening was reported by those who attended. Our thanks to Pearl Cowan for always helping out and it was great to have Joan Kernohan with us once again.

We've had horseracing, bingo and cards this week. Nellie Ranson was a constant winner at horse racing, while Vera Stevens, Margaret Besse, Lillian Millar, Edith Russell, Harold Orsborn and Lillian Harrison were all winners at bingo. Not so many card players again this week, Roy Nicholls partnered with Lillian Millar challenged Margaret Besse and Olive Wray. Roy and Lillian won two games to one. Margaret said, yes we did win a game, just so we weren't skunked.

We appreciated Rev. Everall joining us for Communion at our Tuesday Chapel Service and a thank you as always to Ruby Williams for looking after the chapel set-up. Also visiting us was Rev. Burgess on Sunday for his weekly chats. A dedicated friend who is much appreciated.

Our recent Tea Party was hosted by the Minden Shuffleboard and not only did they provide us with wonderful treats they were also persuaded to give us a sing-song. They are great sports and we thoroughly enjoyed their company. Our thanks to them. While on the subject of food, some of the men tucked into delicious goodies at their get-together T.L.C. for Men. However we have been told it has been renamed "Men's Club". It is a time put aside for those men who wish to sit and "chew the fat" while enjoying some great food and according to Roy, Gerald,

Harold, Bill and Matti, enjoy it they do. This time their menu consisted of homemade lemon and apple pies, homemade bread with butter and homemade jam and/or maple syrup, sounds good doesn't it? Once again much was eaten and small suppers were eaten that night. Not surprised are you? Once again thanks to Nancy.

Our craft group has been keeping busy lately making all sorts of things. Little items to decorate the garden and gazebo as well as the activity rooms. It certainly cheers everything up and we want them to know how lovely things are looking.

The lucky recipient of this week's leisure bath was Sid Roberts and like the two before him Sid thoroughly enjoyed the experience and felt much better after and more limber.

Before we go we must mention our canine visitors. We've been fortunate to have three this past week with Bailey, Kirby and Gypsy. All are enjoyed along with their owners who we thank for sharing these wonderful pets with us. We always look forward to their visits.

While we were sitting here talking of all our news, Lillian Millar received visitors. It was her son Tom with his wife and son; they popped in to spend some time with Lillian before heading back to Kitchener. They had been staying at the family cottage on Big Hawk Lake for a couple of days and they certainly looked like they had been enjoying themselves with lovely tans. It was nice to meet them.

Two birthdays to celebrate, both on the same day. Thelda Weston and Sadie Kitchman celebrate together July 27. Our birthday greeting to both of you and do enjoy that special day.

We think we have remembered to tell you everything but if not we will catch you next week. Have fun and remember - "Good friends are hard to find, harder to leave and impossible to forget."

Around the County Town

by Nora Snyder (call 286-4450; email <mindenhouse@on.abn.com>)

We certainly are in the hazy, lazy days of summer. It feels like an old fashioned summer. The temperatures just right, even with good sleeping weather. Lots of people around enjoying a Haliburton summer. No parking downtown. Lots of cars on the roads. Lots of people enjoying the hospitality of the Highlands.

I have been enjoying summer activities too as my grandson is visiting and we are doing summer things together. The highlight has been swimming in Twelve Mile Lake. I haven't been swimming in any lake for years. I emailed a daughter to say Clem was here and we swam in a lake and she replied she was very envious as she couldn't remember the last time she had been in a lake. She will have to visit Mom more often in the summer in order to do that!! Hint!! Hint!!

Clem and I also saw 'Shrek' at the Beaver Theatre. It was cute and Clem loved it. It was crowded with kids and accompanying adults but you could hear a pin drop except for the laughs. We've been to the library to load up with reading material. He is off to the Museum to-day for 'ice-cream kick the can' ??? (I'll let you know the outcome of that game!!) We are wearing each other out with all these activities. He falls asleep as soon as his head hits the pillow and is up long after granny in the morning. Of course us 'older' folks can't sleep in anymore!

I'm having fun. It reminds me of cottage days. I will miss his presence here when his Mom comes up to take him home but I think I will be ready for it too!!

A reminder of the 'Summer Time Story Hour for Kids.....of all ages'. Story time runs from 1 to 2 p.m. every Thursday at the Minden Public Library. Great way for kids to spend an hour. Don't you like to be read to!!

***

Another reminder of the 'Fishes and Loaves' Fish Fry on Sunday, July 29 at the Zion United Church in Carnarvon. Sittings are at 5 and 7 p.m. Seats are reserved and can be purchased from the Cornerstore in Minden or from choir members.

***

Let's hope this wonderful summer continues. A little bit of overnight showers would help the gardens but you can't have it all, I guess. Have fun!!

And nothing is the same
We have to hide our heartache
When someone speaks your name.*

*Sad are the hearts that love you
Silent the tears that fall
Living our lives without you
Is the hardest part of all.
You had a loving nature
And a heart as pure as gold
We'll always remember your smiling face*

*And the stories that you told.
The special years will not return
When we were all together
But with the love within our hearts
You will walk with us forever.
Sadly missed and always remembered*

No one will ever know.
Forever loved, Sadly missed,
Never Forgotten,
